Topcast Wins an Exclusive Distribution Agreement from Av-DEC for Customers in South-East Asia

Singapore, 21 September, 2022 — Topcast, the world-leading aircraft parts distributor and MRO service provider, won an exclusive distribution agreement of products from Aviation Devices & Electronic Components, LLC (Av-DEC), the innovative anti-corrosion solution provider. Upon the contract signed as of the first day of MRO Asia-Pacific 2022, Topcast will represent all corrosion-prevention products engineered by Av-DEC to customers in South-East Asia.

Corrosion is a gradual deterioration of a material's surface through chemical reactions and is a threat to all aircraft, as they operate in extreme environments that speed up corrosion. This problem can be extremely costly to aircraft operators in parts overhaul and replacement if no preventative measures are taken. Av-DEC offers comprehensive, adaptive, and economical solutions with a wide array of form factors to mitigate the corrosion concern. Carefully engineered HI-TAK® gaskets, injectable and sprayable sealants, and HI-TAK® polyurethane rolled sealants (PRS®) are ideal products for protecting aircraft structures and parts from corrosion, applicable to all kinds of flight vehicles.

Steven Pearson, Chief Executive Officer of Topcast, was delighted to see the new joiner to Topcast's portfolio, "Av-DEC products are trusted by many of the world-leading Aircraft OEM's & Airlines and I believe their products are the best choices against corrosion in the market. We are excited to introduce those spectacular products to customers in South-East Asia, offering them impressive solutions to overcome the corrosion problems enhanced by the challenging weather there."

Jon Jacobson, Head of Commercial Sales of Av-DEC, welcomed the new partnership, "With a robust sales network and outstanding aftermarket services, Topcast is a trustworthy and reliable partner to us. I am very confident that our collaboration will be mutually beneficial, and we will bring anti-corrosion products to a new height together in South-East Asia."

The spokesman of Topcast said that Av-DEC corrosion-prevention products and on-demand training services are now available. Customers are welcome to contact the sales team for details.
